

Money Isn't All You're Saving

LOWER UTILITY COSTS ARE BUILT INTO EVERY ENERGY STAR® LABELED HOME.

With the EPA-backed ENERGY STAR label, you can be certain that your new home is at least 30% more energy efficient than a standard home. Special features are built into every ENERGY STAR labeled home. Look for a combination of tight construction, properly installed insulation, high performance windows, and high-efficiency heating and cooling equipment—and see your utility bills go down. To buy a new home that helps you and the environment, contact a participating builder today at www.houstonenergystarhomes.com.
