

Comments Via E-mail From Rickie McLain, Royce Homes

I, like many others, am looking forward to a huge year in 2006. Having the implementation of these new standards based on the start date of July 1st rather than the completed date would create a much smoother transition for us, as well as the HVAC manufacturers. I wanted to voice my opinion on this matter, and be included in the loop once the decision comes down.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration.