Dear RESNET Accredited Training Providers,

Thank you for participating in the EPA ENERGY STAR for New Homes Version 3 Train the Trainer sessions. We have just concluded our first session in Chicago and are excited about the excellent dialogue and feedback that is being generated. EPA anticipates that this will continue over the remaining three sessions and plans to take the opportunity to aggregate feedback on the checklist field guides and make updates to ensure that these resources are as useful as possible. Therefore, we encourage you to wait until February to begin offering Version 3 training to raters and providers in your markets, as we anticipate having the updated guides available by the end of January.

Thank you for your support of the ENERGY STAR for New Homes Program.

Best regards,

The ENERGY STAR for New Homes Team
