

This email is being sent to you on behalf of EPA and DOE's ENERGY STAR® program.

Dear ENERGY STAR EPS Stakeholder:

Thank you to everyone who participated in the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) ENERGY STAR External Power Supplies (EPS) Stakeholder Online Meeting on Tuesday, November 13, 2007. The discussion was informative and will help EPA determine next steps in developing its revised EPS specification. Please find attached the following meeting materials:

- EPS Online Meeting Power Point Presentation; and
- Meeting RSVP List.

As a final reminder, stakeholders are requested to provide comments on the Draft 1 Version 2.0 EPS specification no later than November 20, 2007. Please send comments via e-mail to Robin Clark, ICF International, at rclark@icfi.com.

EPA will post any comments it receives from stakeholders on the ENERGY STAR Product Development Web site at: http://www.energystar.gov/index.cfm?c=revisions.eps_spec, unless the comments are marked to remain confidential.

Finally, as requested during the November 13 meeting, EPA is providing stakeholders with the Web site for more information on the Department of Energy's (DOE) standards efforts for external power supplies and battery chargers. Please visit the Web site below to review DOE documents and to register to receive email updates on rulemaking for external power supplies and battery chargers:

http://www.eere.energy.gov/buildings/appliance_standards/residential/battery_external.html.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Andrew Fanara at (206) 553-6377 or fanara.andrew@epa.gov or Robin Clark at (202) 862-1223 or rclark@icfi.com.

Thank you for your continued support of ENERGY STAR!

This e-mail has been sent to you on behalf of ENERGY STAR. ICF International provides consulting services in a broad range of areas. ICF International does not determine or interpret EPA policy.