Subject: RE: ENERGY STAR Audio/DVD specification

Kathleen-

I joined the call today and had a few follow up questions that I would like some clarification on...

1. We are working on boom boxes, shelf systems, and clock radios for next year is it possible you will reconsider adding these back in?
2. We ship a lot of our product into Canada- is there an issues shipping Energy star branded product into Canada? Or do they have different regulations?
3. we are launching a bunch of products for Spring 2009 that meet the current standard- do we need to pull back that plan or can we still launch them. What is the estimated date of finalization of the spec and implantation date? The products that we are launching may have a shelf life of 1-2 years.
4. What is the actual website for the AV PD website?

Mark was unable to attend so as soon and I can get the document I will share it with him and get is engineering feedback.

Thank you,
Nancy Gezella
