

Peters, Sophia

From: Peters, Sophia
Sent: Wednesday, January 21, 2009 4:25 PM
To: Peters, Sophia
Subject: FW: CES Installer Meeting comments

From: MEIson@soundsolutions.com
 To: Kathleen Vokes/DC/USEPA/US@EPA, AudioVideo@energystar.gov
 Cc: spantano@icfi.com, tbolioli@terranovum.com
 Date: 01/14/2009 01:06 PM
 Subject: CES Installer Meeting comments

Hi,
 I participated in the discussion and received your recent email.

- 1) There is another factor which I didn't see reflected, perhaps because it may be too difficult to deal with. Aside from "Pro/Commercial", which does not really apply, or "Home Theater in a Box", which addresses the problem in a small way, many households that have TV's, also have some sort of Audio system which has been accumulated over the years (AV receiver, DVD player, VCR, CD changer, set top box (cable / satellite) and other components (laserdisc, turntable, cassette deck). Either this type of Home Theater system or an all-in-one purchase is the generally found form factor -Home Theater in a Box is a small per centage of sales compared to these other versions of Home Theater. Since they are comprised of independent components, and no two systems are ever the same, how do you attach a single energy Star rating to them- or do you at all?
- 2) In a related topic, whole house systems, including multi-room multi-zone music, CCTV camera, Touchpanel control and other subsystems, need to be addressed.
- 3) Wall warts – please see this link <http://ucsdnews.ucsd.edu/newsrel/general/07-08UniversalPowerAdapter.aspx> these

Thank you.

Mark Elson

Director of Marketing

Sound Solutions

11240 Playa Court Culver City, CA 90230

(310) 398-0032, fax (310) 398-0036

Winner CEDIA 2007 Silver "Best Integrated Home Technical Design $800,000 - $1,000,000"

Winner CEA 2007 "Ultimate Home of the Year"

Winner CEA 2007 "Best Lighting Control"

Winner Crestron 2006 "Ultimate Connected Home"

Winner CEA 2006 "Best Distributed Audio/Video"

Winner Crestron 2005 "Biggest, Baddest Home"

Winner CEDIA 2005 Designers Choice: Best Integrated Home

Winner CEA 2005 "Ultimate Home of the Year"

NOTICE:

This message is for the designated recipient only and may contain privileged or confidential information. If you have received it in error, please notify the sender immediately and delete the original. Any other use of this e-mail by you is prohibited.