Demand Response Summary:	ecobee helps customers and utilities to avoid peak demand on the energy system (either electricity grid or natural gas pipelines) by reducing demand during peak times. ecobee provides utilities web tools and APIs which allows them to send Demand Response (DR) events to their customers who have enrolled into the utility's DR program through ecobee's web services. Load is shed or controlled during the event by allowing the utilities to set a relative setback or HVAC cycling percentage for a specified period of time. ecobee's tools allow for both mandatory and voluntary event participation from customers. If voluntary, the customer is able to opt-out of any active Demand Response event.
