State Spotlights

“This year we had the privilege of working with volunteers and construction leaders around the world through the 2019 Jimmy & Rosalynn Carter Work Project sharing the difference it makes in the lives of the homeowners and the environment what it means to be a 100 percent ENERGY STAR certified builder. Most importantly, we conveyed the impact that an affordable home builder can have in a traditional real estate market through ENERGY STAR practices.” Chip Wilson, SVP of Construction Habitat for Humanity of Greater Nashville

Nissan North America, Inc., a motor vehicle manufacturer, improved the average ENERGY STAR scores across the region by 3.8 points in 2020, despite COVID-related shutdowns and also launched a new communication campaign, Save at Home! Save at Work! to reduce plant carbon dioxide emissions and energy consumption.
