State Spotlights

Best Buy Co., Inc., an electronics retailer, sold enough ENERGY STAR products to prevent greenhouse gas emissions equivalent to the emissions from over one million cars.

The cities of Edina, Minneapolis, St. Louis Park, St. Paul, and Bloomington rely on EPA's ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager tool as the foundation for their energy benchmarking and transparency policies.

Pentair, a pool pump manufacturer, increased ENERGY STAR certified pool pump offerings by 33.6% in 2021, helping customers save more than $100 million in energy costs and reducing greenhouse gas emissions by 441,224 tons.

Andersen Corporation, a window and door manufacturer, achieved outstanding outreach results, generating over 1.4 billion impressions across its ENERGY STAR marketing, communication, and consumer education efforts and over 1 billion impressions from more than one thousand placements that resulted from press releases featuring ENERGY STAR content.

Target Corporation, an upscale discount retailer, reduced energy across all buildings, increased its portfolio-wide ENERGY STAR score to 75, and earned ENERGY STAR certification for 13 stores.
