State Spotlights

LG Electronics, Inc., a consumer electronics, home appliances, and mobile communications manufacturer, continued its extensive commitment to ENERGY STAR by significantly increasing sales of ENERGY STAR and ENERGY STAR Most Efficient models and prominently showcasing ENERGY STAR in promotions and marketing.

"We are so proud to work along side EPA's ENERGY STAR Certified Homes and Multifamily New Construction team in reaching new milestones for our company and clients, certifying over 53,000 homes and apartments to date." - Rich Selverian, CEO, MaGrann Associates.

Hayward Holdings, a pool equipment manufacturer, has the most energy- efficient and cost- effective pool pump in the market today, and added eight new ENERGY STAR certified models in 2021, six of which are ultra-high efficiency pumps.

New Jersey Board of Public Utilities, a state agency overseeing the Clean Energy Program, incentivized more than 3,200 ENERGY STAR certified homes and apartments, for a cumulative total exceeding 84,000 units since joining the program in 2001.

Panasonic, a ventilation and indoor air quality solutions company, is a driver of industry improvements in efficiency, performance accuracy, and air quality with a commitment to ENERGY STAR and connecting the brand with healthy homes, resulting in millions of impressions and nearly all vent fan sales revenue coming from ENERGY STAR models.

ENERGY STAR is the government-backed symbol for energy efficiency, providing simple, credible, and unbiased information that consumers and businesses rely on to make well-informed decisions. For more info, please visit energystar.gov/impacts and energystar.gov/statefacts.
