

2 million new homes.
2 million reasons to celebrate.

Celebrate every season in an ENERGY STAR® certified new home.

We're proud to offer new homes that have earned the ENERGY STAR label. And with over 2 million ENERGY STAR certified new homes now in the US, more people than ever are discovering the superior comfort and savings compared to most new homes currently on the market. Offering more than just efficient appliances, certified homes integrate energy efficiency from the ground up.

The right choice for every season.

ENERGY STAR certified new homes are:

- A good investment for today and tomorrow.
- Built on a 25 year track record of quality, efficiency, and lasting value.
- A home you and your family can be proud of.

A better home for a better tomorrow.
