

Experience all the comforts of a home that's earned the ENERGY STAR[®]

Discover the comfort and savings of an ENERGY STAR certified new home.

If you're shopping for a new home, consider one that's earned the ENERGY STAR label. With energy efficiency built-in from the ground up, an ENERGY STAR certified new home offers greater savings compared to most new homes currently on the market. Plus, you'll enjoy peace of mind knowing it's built to a high standard of construction for enhanced comfort and durability—and a lifetime of memories.

The right choice for every season.

ENERGY STAR certified new homes are:

- A good investment for today and tomorrow.
- Built on a 25 year track record of quality, efficiency, and lasting value.
- A home you and your family can be proud of.

A better home for a better tomorrow.

Learn more about ENERGY STAR certified new homes at energystar.gov/newhomes.

