

Building Performance with ENERGY STAR® Program for K-12 Schools

Let us help improve the performance of your buildings.

Consumers Energy Business Solutions (CEBS) has teamed up with ENERGY STAR to offer Building Performance with ENERGY STAR to help school districts improve their energy efficiency and reduce energy usage by developing an Energy Management Plan and setting an Energy Saving Goal.

This program aims to help your school district understand its current energy use and provides recommendations to help reduce usage and costs, while improving the comfort and efficiency of your buildings. We will provide you with the framework on how energy efficiency projects should be staged, so savings obtained from one project help to fund future projects. The result of each project will reduce your budget's allocation towards energy for your school district.

The model we use to accomplish this task has been proven successful by ENERGY STAR's programs like this throughout the nation. The diagram below illustrates the model we will implement with your school district.
