

USING THE ENERGY STAR® CERTIFICATION MARK

This mark is available to any organization that has signed a Partnership Agreement or Partnership Letter, is currently an active partner with EPA's ENERGY STAR® program, and has had one or more products, homes, or buildings certified as ENERGY STAR.

CORRECT USE

The Certification Mark is used as a label on products, homes, and buildings that have been verified to meet ENERGY STAR requirements. Examples of proper use are illustrated on the following page.

Uses of the Certification Mark include:

- Advertisements, 1 point-of-purchase materials, and other promotional materials when used on or near a certified product, home, or building;
- Product literature or a Web page 2 that identifies a certified product, home, or building; and
- Certified products or product packaging. 3 See Special Conditions section on the following pages for guidance on how to use the mark on the FTC's EnergyGuide Label, Heating, Ventilation and Air-Conditioning (HVAC) Equipment, and Gas Furnaces.

INCORRECT USE

In addition to the ENERGY STAR General Requirements on page 4, please observe the following requirements when using the ENERGY STAR Certification Mark:

- Do not use to denote EPA or ENERGY STAR partnership or endorsement.
- Do not use near non-certified products, homes, or buildings in advertisements or other promotional materials.
- Do not use on homes or buildings that have not been certified as ENERGY STAR.
- Do not use on non-product specific promotional materials.
- Do not use on insulation products.
- Do not use on cars, vans, or other vehicles.

For ENERGY STAR certified new homes and buildings, EPA provides a label for placement on the home or building. Builders constructing ENERGY STAR certified new homes will receive this label from their home verification organization and should affix it to the home's circuit breaker panel or other suitable location. Owners of ENERGY STAR certified buildings will receive this label from EPA. The label should be affixed to the outside of the building to promote that the building has earned the ENERGY STAR for a specific year.

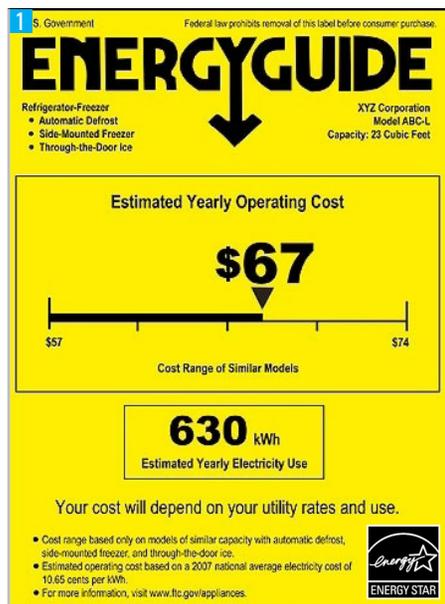

USING THE ENERGY STAR® CERTIFICATION MARK SPECIAL CONDITIONS

For product-specific labeling requirements, please review the ENERGY STAR® Program Requirements document found on the relevant product's web page at energystar.gov.

ENERGYGUIDE LABEL 1

The Certification Mark may be added in black to the FTC's EnergyGuide Label for appliances, televisions, and HVAC equipment that have earned the ENERGY STAR.

REGIONAL PRODUCT LABELS

WINDOWS 2

All certified windows, doors, and skylights must display the ENERGY STAR Product Qualification Label in accordance with the Partner Requirements and Resource Guidelines for Manufacturers. The Product Qualification Label includes the Certification Mark and illustrates the regions in which the label applies, unless it applies to all regions.

FURNACES

Certain gas furnaces are qualified only in southern states and must display the Gas Furnace Regional Mark in accordance with those specific guidelines on page 14.

MINIMUM GUIDELINES FOR ELECTRONIC LABELING

The following minimum guidelines apply to electronic labeling as an alternative to physical product labeling:

1. The Certification Mark must appear at system start-up for a minimum of 10 seconds unless the product start-up process is shorter than 10 seconds. In these cases, the mark should show for as much time as possible, but for no less than five seconds.
2. The Certification Mark must appear in cyan, black, or white, and meet the requirements for legibility and visibility as described on page 8.
3. As display screens come in a variety of sizes and capabilities, the Certification Mark must be at least 10 percent of the total screen size, but may not be smaller than 76 pixels x 78 pixels and must be clearly legible.

HVAC EQUIPMENT

When using the Certification Mark in association with a certified heat pump or central air conditioner, the following disclaimer must appear: "This product meets ENERGY STAR requirements when appropriate coil components are used. Ask your contractor for details."

INDUSTRIAL PLANT BANNERS AND FLAGS

This ENERGY STAR graphic can only be used by a plant that has met EPA's ENERGY STAR requirements and has been awarded use of the mark. A parent corporation is responsible for any subsidiary using this graphic in accordance with these requirements; parent companies and non-awarded plants are not allowed to use or post the ENERGY STAR graphic. An awarded plant can display the ENERGY STAR graphic on banners or flags in any desired quantity.

USING THE ENERGY STAR® CERTIFICATION MARK

MULTIFAMILY HIGH RISE POST- CONSTRUCTION

Upon confirmation from EPA that all program requirements have been met and verified, a partner may identify or promote Multifamily High Rise (MFHR) units as ENERGY STAR® certified, as specified below.

When identifying MFHR units that have earned the ENERGY STAR:

- The MFHR Developer may identify the units as ENERGY STAR only on or in the building units.

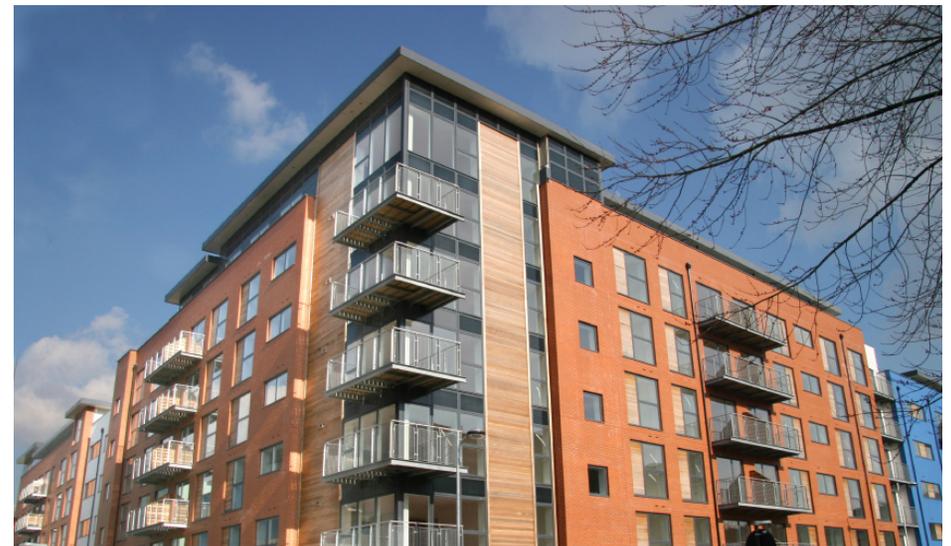

When promoting or marketing a project as ENERGY STAR, follow the requirements below:

- The MFHR Developer may promote the units within the building as ENERGY STAR certified units in advertising and other promotions.

INCORRECT USE

In addition to the ENERGY STAR General Guidelines on page 4 and 8, please observe the following incorrect use guidelines when using the ENERGY STAR Certification Mark for units in multifamily high rise buildings:

- Do not use to promote participation in the ENERGY STAR Multifamily High Rise Program in general advertisements and marketing materials.
- Do not use on stationery, pins, hats, and other promotional items.
- Do not use on vehicles.
- Do not use on building plans.
- Do not use to promote the building or property as ENERGY STAR certified.

USING THE ENERGY STAR® MARKS

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

The ENERGY STAR® program is a partnership between private and public sector organizations and the federal government. Through this partnership, organizations may receive authorization to use one or more of the ENERGY STAR trademarks, owned by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, to identify and promote their certified products, homes, buildings, or highlight their partnership with ENERGY STAR and commitment to energy efficiency.

The ENERGY STAR marks, each designed for specific purposes, are shown on the following pages and fall under the following four categories:

1. Certification Mark;
2. Partnership Mark;
3. Promotional Mark; and
4. Linkage Phrase Marks.

To use these marks, organizations must sign a Partnership Agreement and be an active partner in EPA's ENERGY STAR program. If you have questions about your partnership status, check EPA's ENERGY STAR Partner List or contact your Account Manager. Members of the media can contact media@energystar.gov to request high-resolution marks and guidance on how the mark should be used. In addition to the specific guidelines for each mark, organizations must also abide by the following general guidelines for the use of the ENERGY STAR name and all forms of its marks:

1. The marks may not be altered, rotated, cut apart, or otherwise distorted.
2. The ENERGY STAR name and marks may not be used to imply EPA or ENERGY STAR endorsement or approval of an organization, its products, or its services.
3. Neither the marks, nor any portion thereof, nor any reference to the ENERGY STAR name may be used in an organization's name or logo, product name or logo, service name or logo, or website domain name.
4. The marks may not be used in a manner that would disparage ENERGY STAR, EPA, or any other entity.
5. The marks may not be associated with products, homes, or buildings that are not ENERGY STAR certified.
6. Partners and other authorized organizations are responsible for their own proper use of the ENERGY STAR marks, as well as use by their representatives, such as ad agencies, contractors, and companies that produce promotional items on their behalf.

7. EPA requires that a clear space surround the mark at all times. No other mark elements, such as text or images, should appear directly next to the mark.
8. The marks may be resized, but the proportions must be maintained. The lettering inside the marks must remain legible when reproduced for print or electronic formats.
9. The color for the marks is 100% cyan; the Web color equivalent is hex color #00AEEF. Alternate versions in black or reversed out to white are allowed, but cyan is preferred. The marks should not be used as an outline, nor should they appear in the same color as the background (e.g., a cyan mark should not be used on a cyan background).

TERMINOLOGY – Proper Use of the ENERGY STAR® Name

The ENERGY STAR® name and mark are registered trademarks owned by the U.S. EPA.

This section provides the appropriate terminology to use when describing the various elements of the ENERGY STAR program, as well as examples of incorrect terminology. EPA requires that partners follow this terminology to ensure brand consistency.

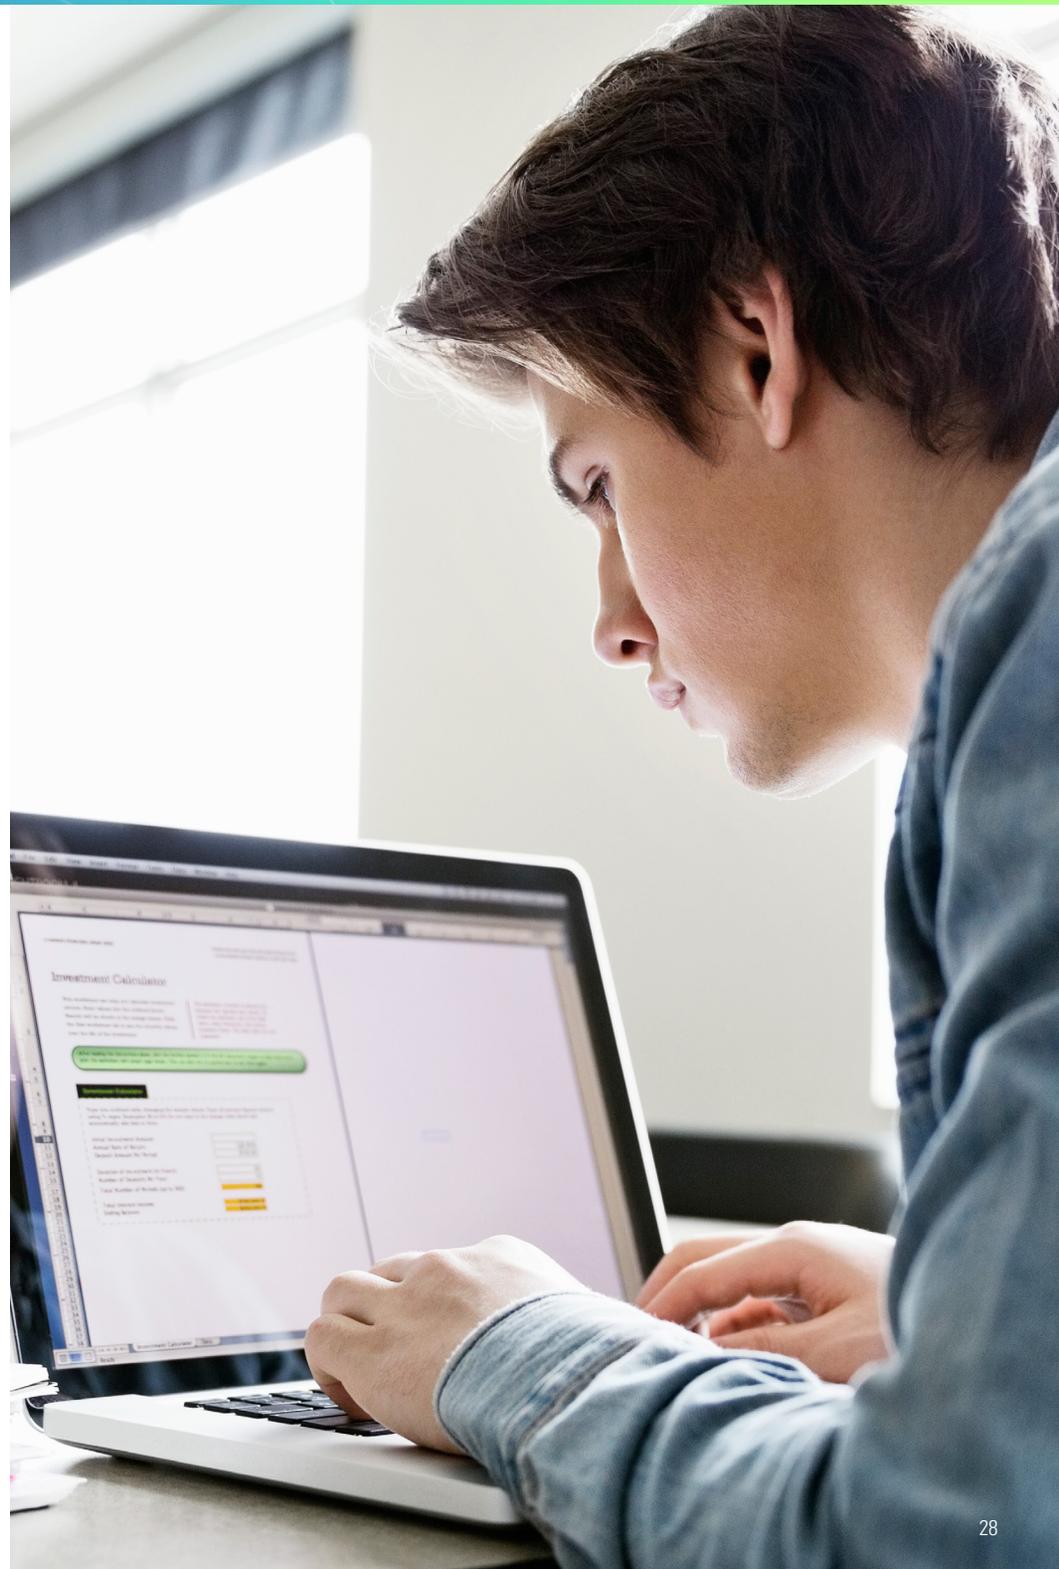

1. The ENERGY STAR name should always appear in all capital letters and as two words.
2. There should be no space between the words “ENERGY STAR” and the ® symbol;
3. The registration symbol ® must be used the first time the words “ENERGY STAR” appear, and the ® symbol should then be repeated in a document for each chapter title or Web page; and
4. The ® symbol should always be in superscript.

When writing about ENERGY STAR, please use the following language:

1. ENERGY STAR and the ENERGY STAR mark are registered trademarks owned by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.
2. ENERGY STAR products are third-party certified by an EPA-recognized Certification Body.
3. ENERGY STAR certified new homes are verified by independent Home Energy Raters.
4. ENERGY STAR units in certified multifamily high rise buildings are verified by a professional engineer or registered architect.
5. ENERGY STAR certified buildings and plants earn a score of 75 or higher on EPA’s 1-100 energy performance scale and are verified by a licensed Professional Engineer (PE) or Registered Architect (RA).
6. Products/Homes/Buildings that earn the ENERGY STAR prevent greenhouse gas emissions by meeting strict energy efficiency requirements set by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

- Do not submit copyrighted or other proprietary material in any form on the ENERGY STAR social media channels without clearly indicating that you have permission to do so.

ENERGY STAR® REVIEW POLICY

To help avoid inadvertent misuse of the ENERGY STAR® marks, EPA strongly recommends that partners submit any promotional efforts that feature ENERGY STAR for review prior to final production or printing, particularly if the marks are being used in a new way. Submitted materials will be reviewed for consistency with these guidelines. EPA strives to provide feedback within two business days of receipt of the materials. Large-scale efforts may require a longer review.

Materials for review or any questions regarding proper use of the trademarks should be submitted to the partner's Account Manager or via email at: logo@energystar.gov.

TRADEMARK VIOLATIONS

EPA actively monitors proper use of the ENERGY STAR® name and marks. To report potential trademark violations, please email us at: logomisuse@energystar.gov.
