Dear ENERGY STAR® Water Heaters Stakeholders,

Thank you to those who have registered for the ENERGY STAR Connected Water Heater Products Test Procedure Kick-Off Meeting on Tuesday, May 21, 2019. If you have not yet sent an RSVP and you plan to attend, please RSVP to WaterHeaters@energystar.gov as soon as possible. Last-minute RSVPs may be able to attend in person depending on seating restrictions. Attendees can participate in person, via WebEx, and/or over the phone (see details below). Any questions regarding this meeting can be directed to WaterHeaters@energystar.gov.

In preparation for the meeting, attendees may want to:

- Refresh their understanding of the UEF test procedure, which is the current test method for residential water heaters and can be found in Appendix E to Subpart B of 10 CFR Part 430
- Brainstorm what quantifiable metrics would be useful to all stakeholders
- Review the ENERGY STAR Water Heaters Draft 1 Version 3.3 Specification

Test procedures developed will need to verify, at a minimum, the Demand Response (DR) aspects laid out in the current draft specification: consumer override, loss of connectivity, messaging (with attention to accuracy), and response to DR requests.

For more information regarding potential connected criteria, including for Water Heaters, visit the Connected Criteria for ENERGY STAR Products development page.
