

[Comments extracted from email and formatted for publication]

From: Ray Garries
To: Doug Anderson, EPA
Sent: December 12, 2014
Subject: Estar Notes

Doug,

Thanks for arranging this session. I have captured some of the points from the web input for future consideration.

Hope you have a good Christmas
Ray

- How can the cost analysis be reviewed earlier to provide more input? Let's do this sooner than later. Component costs could be useful way to do this but it must be reviewed by finish product manufacturers.
- Again - 7 years must be the maximum payback and replacement window costs are much different than new construction or big box stock units. These must be considered separately for cost and payback
- Could we use Ducker to calculate sales from share data?
- What are the future considerations for doors? As you know we discussed extensively the 6.0 changes criteria although the cost effectiveness showed "no effective savings"
- Will the Issues for Discussion Handout be made available for webinar participants? I would be interested in reviewing those and providing input.
Thanks!

--

Ray Garries | GFA | 253 225 1413