This is a friendly reminder that EPA is launching work groups to advance the SHEMS program model. If you are interested in participating and have not signed up already, please fill out this form by the end of today, September 25, 2018. If unable to access the form, please indicate the work group(s) you wish to join by sending an email to smarthomesystems@energystar.gov. Work groups will commence in October. The work group focus areas are:

1. Utility pilots / data needs
2. Miscellaneous energy loads
3. Occupancy detection methods
4. Characterizing an "away" hour
5. Demand response and distributed energy resources

If you have already signed up, no further action is required of you at this point in time. We will be contacting everyone who has signed up to begin scheduling work group meetings for early October.
