Families and businesses are saving with the help of ENERGY STAR®

Alabama is home to about 80 businesses and organizations participating in U.S. EPA's ENERGY STAR program:

- 13 manufacturers of ENERGY STAR certified products
 - 6 companies supporting independent certification of ENERGY STAR products and homes
 - 14 companies building ENERGY STAR certified homes,
- as well as many businesses, schools, governments, and faith-based groups using ENERGY STAR to reduce energy waste.

Across Alabama

- 1.6 million customers were served by ENERGY STAR utility partners in 2018
- 2,386 buildings (more than 175 million square feet) were benchmarked in 2018 using EPA's ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager
- 8,463 homes have earned the ENERGY STAR
- 313 buildings have earned the ENERGY STAR for superior efficiency, including 200 schools, 1 hotel, 4 hospitals, 30 office buildings and 8 industrial plants.

State Spotlights

The CEMEX Demopolis, AL cement manufacturing facility earned the ENERGY STAR for the first time in 2009, and has been a cornerstone in the local and regional area for more than a century employing around 100 local men and women, doing approximately $30 million worth of business annually with local suppliers, contractors and companies. Projects of notoriety include additions to both Alabama and Auburn football stadiums, and numerous condominium projects along the coast line of Alabama. CEMEX has a company-wide Energy Management Program based on ENERGY STAR guidelines. Under this program, the CEMEX Demopolis cement plant has a Site Energy Team which helps the plant progressively apply good energy practices promoted by ENERGY STAR.

Industrial plants in Alabama that are ENERGY STAR certified have saved a cumulative $77 million in energy costs. The three Alabama sites that achieved the ENERGY STAR Challenge for Industry saved $1,745,425 in energy costs.

Eleven buildings in Alabama – including the West Alabama Food Bank, Chilton County High School, and Jemison High School -- participated in the 2016 ENERGY STAR Battle of the Buildings: BOOTCAMP, collectively saving an estimated $57,559 in energy and water costs in just three months.
