Dear ENERGY STAR Partners,

Black Friday is quickly approaching, and the Environmental Protection Agency wants to make sure you have everything you need to join us for Twelve Days of ENERGY STAR featuring our Holiday Gift Guide and Gifts that Do A World of Good.

The holiday promotion will launch on Cyber Monday, November 29th on Twitter and Facebook promoting our gift guide and amplifying participating partners’ messages.

How to Participate:

Gift Guide
If you are running any holiday deals/incentives, including rebates, on ENERGY STAR certified products and have a link to a page that features these deals, please provide us that link and we will include it as part of our Holiday Gift Guide. The guide features ENERGY STAR certified electronics, appliances, lighting, smart thermostats, and a new addition, EV chargers. Please reach out with any deals/incentives on these products so we can add them to our lists of gifts that do a world of good, which we will be driving traffic to over the promotional period.

Social Media
Please prepare social media messages that highlight these deals anytime over the 12+ Days of ENERGY STAR running from Cyber Monday to December 17th. See the Twelve Days of ENERGY STAR Holiday Toolkit for creative assets and sample posts that we encourage you to use as needed, and follow these directions for posting:

When: November 29th – December 17th
Where: Twitter and Facebook (Please share on your other platforms as well!!)
How: Share posts from @ENERGYSTAR on Twitter and ENERGY STAR on Facebook or post your own message using the Twelve Days of ENERGY STAR Toolkit.

When creating your own message, remember to:

Please let us know when you plan to post on Twitter and Facebook, if you can, and we will find your message and amplify them among our followers.
