

Dear Sir or Madame,

In Annex A ENERGY STAR Elevated Temperature Life Test, Options B and C, the Elevated Temperature Housing and Support requires a minimum spacing between the lamps of 8". Could this be relaxed to a spacing of 6"? The reason for this is that the 6" spacing is a common spacing used in commercially available mountings and this would ease the cost and set-up time in the construction of a testing facility.

Regards,
Frank Lin